ABOUT US

What do you do when you see something or someone who need a change in life? Perhaps you think about it for a while and probably start looking for ways to help those in need. But you simply don't know where to start. We've been there too. And with that thought Crowd Works India Foundation were born.

One third of deaths around the world, around 18 million people a year or 50,000 per day are due to poverty-related causes. Among people in developing nations, women and children are affected by severe poverty. Our focus is on their well-being and rights in marginalized communities. We emphasise on promoting quality healthcare, comprehensive education, better living conditions and disaster preparedness and relief measures.

A large number of people show lack of enthusiasm in making donations. We set out to find out why. The reason was quite simple. It wasn't that people were not willing to help, they were just unsure whether their donations are going to the right people - the ones who needed it the most. We serve people by providing a trustworthy and legitimate platform to donate money to the needy people of society. Our overall goal is on alleviating poverty and social injustice.

VISION

- We aim to find a voice, show our unique work and create a world where people live in dignity and security.
- We believe hope is the best gift ever.
- We pledge we won't give up on our vision

MISSION

Our mission is to make fundraising easier, by keeping the entire process easy and legitimate. To make an impact on society we have adopted the following mission objective.

- To work relentlessly for providing quality health care and medical services for the deprived.
- To help communities who are affected by disasters and emergencies like flood, cyclone, earthquake etc.
- To prevent fake charity approaches who take advantage of the emergency situations.
- To attract volunteers who are passionate about helping the indigent irrespective of any profit and gain.
- To transform rural communities to better living condition.

EDUCATION

The right to education is considered as one of the most important fundamental rights. Today, almost 35 million children in India are denied from going to school each day. For the financially weak families, the increasing expense for higher education is a major challenge. Despite of the fees, there are other expenses that leads to a costly education. So there is a rising need for scholarships that helps students from financially struggling families to attain quality education.

OUR AIM AND APPROACH

We sponsor for the education of the children who are unable to bear the expense of going to school. Providing necessities like food, tuition fees, transportation expenses, books, footwear, etc. are also some of the important concerns. Sponsoring the mid-day meals of poor tribal children is yet another aim. We try to find out the neediest among those who are struggling to pursue higher education and provide scholarships.

HEALTHCARE

Health care is not a privilege. Every Indian citizen have access to public health care services. But still there are many people who die due to diseases which are actually treatable, but unable to access the proper health services. People are also unable to bear the medical expenses when it comes to serious health issues and its treatments.

OUR AIM AND APPROACH

We intend to provide medical facilities for people suffering from serious diseases. Conducting medical camps in rural and tribal areas and sponsoring for the medical aids of the underprivileged people. We sincerely try to avoid deaths on treatable diseases. We will make sure that the needy people will not be deprived from the healthcare services of the country.

WOMEN EMPOWERMENT

Women in India face many challenges in social, physical and economic sectors. Domestic violence, rape, dowry killing are still prevalent in India. Around 60% of women in India are victims of domestic violence. This violence is always considered as a private or family matter, rather than considering it as a crime. This happens because of the depending nature of these women. Rural women lack job opportunities that prevents them to attain a self-reliant state of life.

OUR AIM AND APPROACH

Working for the socio-economic development of women, we aim to provide them job oriented training that can make them self-sufficient especially for those women in rural areas. We stand for women worker's rights. We help women to create an identity of their own even as informal workers. We provide awareness camps that enable women to challenge oppressive norms and to improve self-confidence and leadership quality.

CHILDCARE

In spite of the fast growing economy in India, malnutrition, poverty, and high child mortality rate are some of the major problems which are still prevalent. Environmental problems like pollution, excessive use of pesticides also affect child health adversely. More than 40% of children experience malnourishment and stunt growth due to lack of sufficient healthy diet. Providing proper childcare can be a stepping stone to the disruption of poverty cycle.

OUR AIM AND APPROACH

We work to prevent the factors that inhibit a child from having a healthy childhood. One of our most important aim is to provide good healthcare services to children that keeps them immune to various diseases. By providing healthcare facilities to mothers, new-borns and pregnant women we work to avoid chances of malnutrition. Nutritional food availability for the children in rural and tribal areas will be ensured. "Every child deserves a bright future" is the philosophy that fuels our activities.

POVERTY AND HUMANITARIAN

Despite of the developing nature of the country, poverty and inequality remains as a core challenge in India. Homeless people, child labour, hunger, injustice done to poor, hardships of the migrant workers, etc. are some of the common humanitarian crisis that India is facing. Recession in growth and high unemployment are causing existential hardship to the people of the country.

OUR AIM AND APPROACH

We work with the aim to end poverty by reaching out to the needy with a desire to improve their living conditions. Our prime focus is on issues that people living in rural or poor communities face. Increasing opportunities that improve financial stability, improving skills that facilitate employment, support communities in need by providing innovative and self-sustaining development programs are our plans to eliminate poverty. A great emphasise will be given to poor and landless farmers, needy women, uneducated children and unemployed youth. We work hand in hand and focus on improving the living conditions in poor communities.

CANCER CARE

Every year 9.6 million people die due to cancer. Unfortunately, half of the deaths occur due to the ignorance and lack of care towards the disease. The Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) estimates that India is likely to register over 17 lakh new cases and report over 8 lakh death by 2020. 70% of India's poor cancer patients lose their lives due to late detection of the disease and of which 15% are children. Majority of the people who belongs to the low economic class cannot afford the treatment. Cancer survival depends upon early diagnosis. By the increase in number of cancer cases, the number of cancer centres with excellent infrastructure, trained oncologists, good medical facilities are also increasing in urban India. But the truth is not same in rural India.

OUR AIM AND APPROACH

Our aim is “none of the cancer patients should suffer without getting timely treatment”. We reach out to the people who can't afford the treatment. The treatment also includes psychological and social support, rehabilitation therapies etc. We provide holistic care for the destitute, homeless, and afflicted women and children living below the poverty line who are suffering from cancer. We raise funds to provide mobile palliative home care services for the ill patients. The number of cases of breast cancer, cervical cancer, oral cancer etc. are increasing considerably. So we provide cancer awareness programs to help the rural people who have less knowledge about cancer.

DISASTER MANAGEMENT

Natural disasters cause a great damage across India because of its unique geo-climatic conditions and high socio-economic vulnerability to calamities. The Global Climate Risk Index report of 2019 listed India as the 14th most vulnerable country in the world due to extreme weather conditions. It also results in the subsequent loss in agriculture which in turn distress the farmers. The impact of the natural disasters increase due to the lack of preparedness. Poor and weaker members of the society have always been more vulnerable to various types of disasters. This result in unacceptably high morbidity and mortality amongst the affected population.

OUR AIM AND APPROACH

When nature shows its wrath, people must be protected. Our objective is to provide immediate support to manage relief services by making resources available. Food packets, temporary shelters, clothes and basic amenities like ration kit, medical kit, etc. will be provided for the survivors. We reach out to the victims with appropriate medical services. We are putting a great emphasis on delivering the resources to the right people at the right time.
